How many times have we heard this from anxious cricket fans speculating the fate of a One Day match? If we imagine our body to be a radio and the mind its speaker, weather is something that fiddles with its control knobs. Weather is this hour-to-hour, day to day condition of the atmosphere. A hot or humid weather may make one irritable. A pleasant, breezy weather may make one cheerful and even plan for an outing.
- i) How is weather different from climate? Write in two points.
  - ii) Which are the different elements of weather determining the atmospheric conditions? Mention any four.
  - iii) Do you think that it is important to know about the daily weather forecasts? If so, write any two reasons to support your answer.
